

OVERVIEW

Description

The Step Indicator, also known as a Progress Indicator, serves as a visual guide through a sequence of steps or stages, providing users with a clear representation of their progress. In our design system, we offer both horizontal and vertical Step Indicators to suit diverse layout requirements.

They find their primary use in guiding users through multi-step processes, forms, or workflows and enhances user experience by offering a visually intuitive way to track and navigate through sequential processes, ensuring clarity and ease of interaction.
